Pottery Union Officials' Pay OK'd By Court

Duffy, Jordan Pay
Upheld In Appeal;
Local Court Reverse

LISBON, May 20—A special appeals court has ruled that James M. Duffy and Charles F. Jordan are entitled to salaries of $294 and $207 per week as president and secretary-treasurer of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

The three judges, Joy S. Hurd and Lee E. Skeel of Cleveland and Arthur W. Doyle of Akron, said increases voted at the AFL union's 1944 convention were not obtained illegally.

The special court also upheld the Brotherhood's referendum conducted last August after the increases were submitted to a vote of the membership following Columbus County Common Pleas Court's rejection of the results because of alleged irregularities in counting the ballots.

Larry Finlay, East Liverpool potter, and others from district locals charged in February, 1949, the officers' increases were illegal because they were not submitted to the membership and Judge Joel H. Sharp ordered their salaries rolled back to the 1944 levels—$141 for Mr. Duffy and $131 for Mr. Jordan, plus interim wage raises totaling about $20 each.

Judge Sharp later ordered the union heads to restore to the Brotherhood treasury $10,500 he said had been paid in excess of the legal salaries but the appeals court has reversed this.

The 25,000-member union's convention last year tried and convicted the Finlay group of "harming the Brotherhood by going to court" and the delegates imposed fines or loss of local offices for 10. Mr. Finlay then sought injunctions against the punishment and these cases are scheduled for hearing Monday before Judge Sharp.

The seventh district court originally heard the appeal but one of the judges, John Buckley Jr., died in January and the remaining two, Elmer T. Phillips and John C. Nichols, said they were unable "to reach a common conclusion." They requested assignment of the case to another court.

The case was watched by other national unions because a county court decided it could rule on internal affairs of a union and principals in the litigation also testified in Washington before a House committee investigating labor union practices last August.

Attorney Louis Tobin, counsel for Mr. Finlay, said the reversal will be taken to the Ohio Supreme Court within a month.

French Advance Dynamic Policy

New Line Emphasizes Economic Program

LONDON, May 20—(AP)—A new "dynamic" French foreign policy—launched with the Schuman plan and running strongly through the Big Three and Atlantic council talks here—is challenging Britain's political leadership in Western Europe.

France's new line is shaped to rally West Europe—with or without Britain—into a powerful "third force" of nations turning away from the cold war and concentrating more on the economic, social and financial rebuilding of Europe.

An informed source termed the policy "emphatically not anti-American"—stressing that the French reorientation in viewpoint in no sense means that Europe should be less ready to fight in defense of Western democracy.

Its main lines are these:
1. The United States' tendency to view global problems primarily on the assumption that a new war is virtually inevitable should be jettisoned.

2. Rebuilding of Europe on the assumption that peace is possible should be pushed forward as a first consideration.

3. The nations of West Europe should stop just talking about surrendering parts of their sovereignty for closer unity and take firm steps toward the goal of a unified closely-knit West.

Informed sources in London said those lines were pushed strongly in the three-nation and 12-nation talks just concluded.

The Schuman plan—a keystone of the new policy because it dramatizes the necessity for surrender of sovereignty by anyone who wants to join—caught the British foreign office flat-footed. Schuman announced it the day before the Big Three talks opened. It calls for a pooling of German and French coal and steel resources but carefully leaves the door ajar for British entry.

A diplomatic informant said the French intend to do their "utmost" to get Britain into the plan.

There have been indications in London that American diplomats are finding French views on European organization more palatable than those of Britain.

"VANDY" RETURNS TO SENATE—With a smile on his face but a limp in his walk, Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg leaves the Capitol after putting in his first day in the Senate since last February when extended illness put him in the hospital for a series of operations. The Republican statesman received a standing ovation from his colleagues on his return.

Pupils Exhibit Handicraft In School Show

The sixth annual Art and Industrial Arts exhibit which concluded a two night showing in the High School Friday evening acquainted the public with the year's activities of the sewing, cooking, art, woodworking, metal industry and mechanical drawing classes.

The sewing class members modeled their work and presented an entertainment before a large audience in an unusual backdrop cyclorama setting arranged by members of the Salesmasquers, Miss Ala Zimmerman and Mrs. D. W. Lewis are the sewing instructors.

The Salesmasquers participating under the direction of Miss Irene Weeks, included: Paul Colananni, Pete Menegos and George Manning, set erection; JoAnn Conser, Nancy Weidenhof, Kathryn Umbach, Janet Cunningham, Carol Middeker, Betty Bartholow and Pat Schmidt, design and art work; Bruce Davis, lighting; Don Mathews, curtain.

After the show in the auditorium the audience witnessed the interesting art and industrial arts display in the gym.

The art exhibit, arranged by Teacher Ethel Headrick, was outstanding for the drawings of familiar Salem buildings, while the classes under Cyril Lipaj showed the boys skill with metal. Bill Holzinger made a handy outdoor grill, among the many useful items on display.

In the metal industries shop display were machines painted various hues in the new system of marking dangerous parts of machinery in outstanding colors. The mechanical drawing class, directed by Miss Ada Hanna, presented an interesting array of its work.

Perhaps the outstanding exhibit in the show was the woodworking department with special mention to Don Huston and Robert Hickey for their bedroom suites. Chests, stands, desks, tables, chairs and stools were shown by classes taught by O. J. Hagedorn.

The cooking classes climaxed the evening's entertainment with a cooking demonstration (with samples) in the modern school kitchens. Mrs. Pearl Taylor, home economist, has 74 girls under her supervision. Along with the refreshments served to all the visitors was a showing of table setting by the classes.

Congress Checks Cheese Choice

Ohio, Wisconsin
Products Tested

WASHINGTON, May 20—(AP)—Yesterday was the big cheese-eating day on Capitol Hill, but neither Ohio nor Wisconsin is even claiming a moral victory for its product.

Congressmen gulped 283 pounds of Buckeye and Badger cheese, but, being diplomats of a sort, they said their taste-buds told them:

"Both the cheeses were fine."

Of course, the cheese feast was carefully rigged to prevent a clear-cut decision. Both Rep. Lawrence H. Smith (R-Wis) and Rep. John McSwain (D-Ohio) were afraid "politics" might affect the voting.

Loyal Ohioan McSwain commented: "Frankly, that Wisconsin cheese is not so good. We have bigger holes in ours." Equally loyal to his home state, Smith said: "Ohio cheese just isn't cured as much as Wisconsin cheese."

But from there on, the cheese-filled Congressmen rode the fence in the best tradition. Typical remarks:

Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex): "They both tasted good." Minority Leader Martin (R-Mass): "I just couldn't tell which is best. They are both fine cheese."

Majority Leader McCormack (D-Mass): "They both produce excellent cheese."

Chalmer Lodge Quits County Draft Board

J. Homer Browne of Lisbon, chairman of the Columbiana County Draft Board, today announced the resignation of Chalmer Lodge of Leetonia as a member of Local Selective Service Board No. 16.

The vacancy will be filled by the state-appointed commission of three who made selections on the re-organization of the draft board following World War II. The commission includes Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp, Probate Judge Milton C. Cope and Attorney W. H. Vondrey of East Liverpool.

Lodge, who has served since the reorganization, said other commitments were too pressing to allow him to remain as a board member. Charles Stewart of East Liverpool is the other board member.

Registration of all youths as they become 18 is still being conducted at the offices, 123½ West Lincoln Way, Lisbon.

Ammunition Barges Explode Like A-Bombs

Waterfront City
Rocked; 600 Tons Of Explosives Go Up

SOUTH AMBOY, N. J., May 20—(AP)—A thunderous explosion ripped through a string of ammunition-laden barges last night, killing a possible 29 persons and battering this waterfront city into a tangle of wreckage.

Three hundred persons, some in critical condition, were taken to hospitals. An estimated 300 others were treated by first aid squads and doctors who rushed the stricken area.

There were four known dead and 25 missing.

Officials reported the damage would run into the millions. The Pennsylvania Railroad said its dock area, where the blast occurred, had suffered $5,000,000 damage.

A state of emergency was declared in this city of 10,000 population.

The explosion sent 600 tons of munitions into the sky over lower New York Harbor. Rumors of an atomic attack spread through the community as the blast sent a spout of black smoke towering over the town.

Extra guards were posted outside two banks which had been blown open by the blast.

After the initial explosion, there was nothing more than a citywide shower of glass and a sprinkling of fires concentrated in the wharf area.

By morning only two of the dead had been identified. They were Frank Cinielli, about 25 of Jersey City, and Syward Hagen of Brooklyn.

Mayor James J. Flynn of Perth Amboy, a city of 40,000 three miles across the Raritan River from South Amboy, estimated that 75 per cent of the homes in his city were damaged.

About 300 residents of Perth Amboy were out by flying glass and treated on the streets by roving first-aid squads, the mayor said. Damage was particularly severe in Perth Amboy's business district where plate glass windows were shattered.

"I thought it was an atomic explosion," Mayor John Leonard said. "It was the first thought that hit me."

An army of rescue workers, recruited from throughout the New York metropolitan area, toiled the night long.

Shells and anti-air personnel mines from the exploded barges were scattered onto the area. Authorities warned that some of them still might be live.

Strike Postponed, Switchmen To Talk

WASHINGTON, May 20—(AP)—The Switchmen's union will start new wage-hour talks with 10 Western railroads Tuesday—instead of going on strike that day, as originally scheduled.

The walkout was postponed yesterday—until June 1—by Union President Arthur J. Glover, after the National (Railway) Mediation Board promised to begin new wage talks here next week in a last-ditch effort to break the deadlock.

The dispute affects some 6,000 switchmen in vital yard service on lines operating west of Chicago. None of these lines was involved in the firemen's strike which ended Tuesday.

The switchmen are seeking 40 hours' pay for a 40-hour week—the same terms granted to 1,000,000 members of the 17 non-operating rail unions last September, along with a seven-cent hourly rate hike.

Death Claims Mrs. Silver, 92

Funeral Tuesday For Pioneer Resident

Mrs. Helen Sharp Silver, 92, descendant of a pioneer Salem Quaker family, died at 1 a. m. today at her home, 1100 Franklin st., following a lingering illness.

Born March 12, 1858 in Salem, she was the daughter of Simeon Sharp (1817-1911) and Lydia Seal Taylor-Sharp (1829-1915). May 12, 1887, she was married to William Silver who, with his brothers, Emmor, Homer and Otis, was associated in the original Silver Manufacturing Co. here.

A lifelong resident of Salem and the last of her immediate family, Mrs. Silver is well-known for her charitable works, and was active in both social and civic affairs. A past president of the Travelers club, she was one of the founders of the Salem Garden club, and with Mrs. W. E. Bunn instigated the "forsythia for Salem" plan.

The Silver home on Franklin st. is more than 100 years old. It was built by Howell Hise and is reputed to have been an "underground station" for escaping slaves prior to the Civil War.

The Silvers had no children but they reared Mrs. Helen Louis Llewellyn of Cambridge. Her children are Mrs. Margaret Louise Hannay Thompson of Louisville, Ky., and Robert S. Hannay of Salem.

Cousins include Harry Potter of Birmingham, Mich., Judge Joel H. Sharp of Salem, Mrs. Frank Manley of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Herbert Knox of Willoughby; nieces, Mrs. F. P. Mullins and Mrs. Frank Brian of Salem and a nephew, A. R. Silver of Salem.

Two sisters, Mrs. Ora S. Davis of Salem and Mrs. Lucy S. White of New Brighton, Pa., preceded her in death.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home in charge of Rev. Sidney Mayer of Toledo, former pastor of the Salem Methodist Church. Interment will be in Grandview cemetery.

Friends may call Monday evening at the funeral home.

Seeger and Albertson sustained head bruises.

Taft Denies 'Deal' To Block FEPC Bill

WASHINGTON, May 20—(UP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) of Ohio has branded as "an unmitigated lie" a story that he made a "cold blooded deal" with Southern Democrats to defeat the Fair Employment Practices Bill.

The story was by Columnist Drew Pearson. He said that Sen. Taft has promised to "hold back" enough Republican votes to assure defeat of the Administration's motion to shut off a Southern filibuster on the FEPC measure.

In return, Pearson said, Sen. Richard B. Russell (D) of Georgia swung enough Southern votes to Sen. Taft to defeat President Truman's proposal for reorganization of the National Labor Relations board.

"There was no such deal or anything resembling it," Sen. Taft said in a statement. He noted the names of five Southern Democrats—including Russell—who did not vote for him in the battle over the reorganization plan.

"I have continuously urged every Republican to vote for cloture on the FEPC publicly and privately," Sen. Taft said. "The whole story is an unmitigated lie."

Winnipeg Gets Light Relief

Winds, Rain Decrease,
Dike Breaks Feared

WINNIPEG, Man., May 20—(AP)—The weatherman gave a helping hand today to flood-prone Winnipeg. He took the rain, anticipated earlier, off the forecast for the day.

Another welcome word came from the international border, 70 miles to the South, where the Red River pours in from North Dakota. There, at Emerson, the river's level dropped 1.5 inches in 2 hours. At Letellier, a few miles North of Emerson, the drop was four inches in 36 hours.

Winds that had churned the huge flood-made lake that now is Southern Manitoba also dropped, easing the pressure on the main dikes on the south side of the city. But officials still feared a major break might develop.

"The whole area," said Brig. Ronald Morton, the flood control commander, "now is a succession of lakes subject to very high currents and winds. We no longer regard it as a river."

The Red and its tributary Assiniboine and Seine Rivers held steady at 30.25 feet here. Nor had the drop in the U.S. border reached Morris, 41 miles South of Winnipeg and the center of the flood area. There the river showed a slight rise overnight.

Officials still planned to order compulsory evacuation of the Winnipeg area if the rivers rose another two feet. Already 90,000 or more persons have left the area in response to official appeals for the lightening of the load on overtaxed public utilities.

Plans were ready to remove the rest if necessary.

D. M. Stephens, Manitoba's deputy minister of natural resources, warned yesterday that the long-term weather outlook was "none too optimistic." The

Confident Living

By DR. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How To Lead A More Interesting Life

LIVING is the most interesting thing you can do. Really, there is nothing quite like it; you ought to try it sometime! For the truth is that many people never have—even though they stand erect, walk, sleep and eat. It is not until you really begin to practice the simple, basic principles of living that you find the experiences that make life worth living and make everything gloriously different.

It is sad and pathetic to realize that so many people find life a dull, lack-luster experience. They go through the same routine day after day without vibrancy or color in their lives. They get into ruts.

The story is told of an old farmer who one spring morning put up a sign beside the dirt road passing his Adirondack farm. The sign read, "Choose your rut carefully, you will be in it for the next twenty-five miles." Too many of us seem to have chosen our ruts and stayed in them.

One of these ruts is that of routine: the same procedure day in and day out with little or no variation. That ought to be broken at any cost. Do something in a different way for a change. Eat something different for breakfast. Discuss a new topic with your wife. Walk to work down a different street. That difference will do something to you.

IN getting out of your ruts, don't avoid adventure. Don't be afraid of something perhaps a bit dangerous. You can't have an interesting life unless you are willing to take risks. People come to me from time to time and ask my advice about taking new jobs.

"Who am I to tell you," I usually reply. "All I know is that I would certainly take a new job if I found myself in a blind alley."

"But I don't know whether I can make a go of it," is the oft-heard objection.

My standard response to that is, "You will have a powerful lot of fun finding out." When risk and adventure depart from your life, its most exciting quality is lost.

A very important factor in making your life more interesting is to forget yourself. The person who lives with himself all the time is the dullest of company.

Just the other day, I noticed a man on a train. He was reading Dr. Liebman's book, "Peace of Mind." Finally, he put down the book and looked out the window for a while. I took the opportunity to ask him if he liked the book.

"Yes, indeed," he said. "This author tells you how to have peace of mind. He says to forget yourself, don't be dominated by self thoughts."

"Have you found peace of mind?" I asked.

"No," he answered, "but I've been trying to find it by reading books about it."

"What's your trouble?" I inquired.

"I'm always afraid I'm going to have a heart attack." He went on to tell me that he was an insurance adjuster and had called on so many people with death claims that he had become impressed by the number of men of his age who were dying of heart attacks.

"Have you seen your doctor about this?" was my natural question.

"Oh, yes," the man said, "I've seen six of them. They all say the same thing: that my heart is in perfect condition. But the last physician I saw said that if I don't forget about myself I certainly will have a heart attack."

I TRIED to help this man solve his problem. I told him: "If you really want peace of mind, you must learn to forget yourself. You can do that by losing yourself in the course of your work, people into whose families death or trouble has come. Help them by giving them faith and courage to take up their lives again. If you can do this, you will forget your own troubles and, thus released, your own life will become thrilling and interesting."

Life for everyone can be a delightful even thrilling experience. You do not need to endure dullness, dissatisfaction, apathy. You can change your life by getting out of your rut, by seeking the adventures in which life is so rich and forgetting yourself in service to others.

And here is the way to start. Say to yourself now, this very minute, "With God's help, I will abandon my old self and I will become a new and more vital person." Then believe that you are becoming a new person. Visualize yourself as being re-created by God who first created you. Old life gets stale. New life is fresh and vital. Faith in God's re-creative power gives a new and interesting life.

The power of faith shows us how to savor the richness, fullness and delightfulness of life in the words of the Bible: "I am the door; by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture."

Arsonist Linked To Circus Fire

Ohioan May Have Set Famed Hartford Blaze

COLUMBUS, May 20—(AP)—A self-styled roustabout with Ringling Bros. Circus at the time of the disastrous 1944 fire at Hartford, Conn., will be examined by a psychiatrist next week.

He is Robert D. Segee, 21, of nearby Circleville who was charged late yesterday with arson and attempted arson in recent fires near Circleville. He was bound over to the grand jury on $5,000 bond on each count.

Segee told Pickaway County (Circleville) Prosecutor Guy Cline a strange story of "the Red Indian" who awakens him at night and orders him to set fires.

The "Red Indian," the prosecutor said Segee told him, is the flaming horseman picture used as a symbol by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Segee in his oral statements has neither denied nor admitted setting the Ringling Bros. Circus fire which cost 168 lives, Cline said.

At Hartford, Connecticut State Police Commissioner Edward J. Hickey said he had talked by telephone with Columbus police. He said he was not "getting excited" and he is convinced "they haven't enough on the suspect at present with regard to the circus fire here."

The possibility of incendiary in the circus fire never has been ruled out entirely, Hickey said, although a coroner's finding after the fire blamed a carelessly discarded cigarette.

Segee was returned to the Franklin County jail in Columbus last night after he was questioned at Circleville and charged in a justice of the peace court at nearby Ashville.

During the questioning, Cline said, Segee declared that after the "Red Indian" awakens him, his mind goes blank. When he comes to, Segee said, fires have been set. Cline quotes Segee as saying these circumstances surrounded the Ringling circus fire.

Segee was arrested in East St. Louis, Ill., Wednesday on information furnished by another Circleville man, 23-year-old William Graham.

Wasson was found guilty by a jury of stealing a station wagon owned by Mike Turk of East Liverpool, last Sept. 17, and of armed robbery in the holdup of the Truckers Inn in Wellsville.

Gerald Heckathorne of East Liverpool, alleged accomplice in the crimes, was recently granted a new trial on the armed robbery count.

Lt. Gen. Kuzma Derevyanko, top Soviet general in the Allied Council for Japan, charged that the U. S. is violating Allied occupation policy by rebuilding Japanese naval and air bases, "from Hokkaido to Kyushu," including such bases as Sasebo, Kure and Yokosuka. He demanded an explanation from General MacArthur. General MacArthur rejected the protest as provocative impertinence. The Russian general did not mention the fact that the USSR has Japan completely hemmed in by scores of new bases she has been building with feverish haste. Map shows strategic envelopment of Japan by these bases and others quickly available to Russia.

Union Strikers Ordered Back

Revolt In Toledo CIO Local Nears Finish

TOLEDO, May 20—(AP)—Striking women office employees of CIO United Automobile Workers Local 12 were under orders of the union's membership to go back to their jobs today.

In a noisy but peaceful meeting last night, about 1,400 members of the 35,000-member, 65-unit UAW local instructed 12 women who walked out of the union's dues collection office Tuesday afternoon to return this morning and settle their grievances later.

Whether or not the women workers would end their walkout was doubtful. None took part in last night's two hour closed monthly meeting of Local 12.

Earlier, however, 10 of them sent word to Emil Mazey, international secretary of the UAW, that they refused to meet him "until Gossler and his dominating clique, along with the scabs, are removed from their offices and positions."

Mazey was sent here Wednesday with Edward Cote, Detroit regional director, to attempt to bring peace within the strife-torn local. He told the membership meeting he considered the walkout "unauthorized" and that the strikers had made no effort to settle their grievances, "if any," by procedure outlined in the union's constitution.

Richard T. Gossler, international UAW vice president against whose "domination" of Local 12 the strike was directed, flew here from union negotiations in New York to address the meeting.

His supporters held about a 6-1 edge over the opposition faction, and he was so certain of

Industrialist Urges Price Support Cut

PHILADELPHIA, May 20—(AP)—If the U. S. government eliminated farm price supports, says a Chicago industrialist, the average American might save 15 per cent in food and clothing bills.

But a federal official defended farm supports as necessary. Richard F. Uhlmann, president of the Uhlmann Grain Company of Chicago, said end of supports would save consumers $7,500,000,000.

"Likewise," Uhlmann added, "retail cuts of clothing might be five per cent lower were it not for the maintenance of cotton liners at artificially high levels by government supports."

Frank W. Woolley, vice president of the Commodity Credit Corp., said the purpose of supports was to try to bring agricultural economy into line with the industrial and labor economies.

Farmers want supports, Woolley declared yesterday at a conference on commodity prices and public policy sponsored by the University of Pennsylvania, "because they learned they could not stay in business long by selling on an unprotected market and buying on a protected market."

Bingo Battle Turns Dull

Slated Game, Barred By Mayor, Delayed

MECHANICSBURG, May 20—(AP)—This Champaign county town's expected "bingo battle" last night turned instead into a quiet evening of euchre.

But the scheduled fireworks—due to the "no bingo" edict of Mayor Joseph Chaney and the "we'll play" stand of the Fraternal Order of Eagles—may be postponed only temporarily.

The Mechanicsburg Aeris 2842 advertised the bingo game for last night. Mayor Chaney said he would raid the game if it was held. "There's an ordinance against gambling," Chaney said, "and I've ordered Police Chief Ira Holley to stop the game if it is held."

No police powers were needed, however. A member of the Delaware, O., Aeris was supposed to bring bingo equipment and his bingo-know-how to Mechanicsburg to help the lodge brothers there put on the game. For some unknown reason, he failed to appear.

Then the crowd of people who had intended to play or witness the bingo game, turned instead to playing euchre.

However, Emerson Vordermark, local Aeris secretary, said the game will be rescheduled for June 2.

TV Lengthens School Hours

Cleveland Shaw Kids Will Study At School

CLEVELAND, May 20—(AP)—Partly because of television, Principal Wayne C. Blough has decided to lengthen school hours at East Cleveland's Shaw High school.

He said that next Fall students at his school will be kept in classes about 30 minutes more a day. Supervised classroom study will be substituted in part for homework, he added.

Television's keeping of students away from their books, was only one of several considerations leading to his decision he declared.

In neighboring Cleveland Heights, Roosevelt Junior High school pupils disclosed in a survey that where television competed with home study time, they spent 2.8 hours a week-day watching the screen and 1.65 hours studying. Results of the survey, not yet completely tabulated, were announced by Principal Melvin Hertner who found sets in 52 1/2 per cent of the pupils' homes.

Check-Passer Held; Worked This District

HAMILTON, May 20—(AP)—A 42-year-old Chicopee, Mass., man has been sentenced to the state penitentiary for financing a tour of Ohio by passing worthless $17.50 checks.

Police said Raymond La Chapelle told them after his arrest here two months ago of passing bogus checks in 13 other Ohio cities. They quoted him as saying he used the money to "travel around" and had journeyed from Cincinnati to Cleveland and back again. Other stops include Norwood, Reading, Lebanon, Middletown, Mansfield, Dayton, Columbus, Springfield, Canton, Akron and Youngstown.

Detective Lieutenant Stanley Werlein said La Chapelle had cashed virtually all his checks at filling stations. The only check he is known to have written for an amount other than $17.50 was one for $9.35, the check which caused his arrest.

Judge Fred B. Cramer sentenced him to indeterminate terms on two counts of issuing worthless checks. La Chapelle pleaded guilty.

Lake Erie Boundary Lines To Be Marked

WASHINGTON, May 20—(AP)—Rep. Weichel (R-Ohio) said today the international boundary line in Lake Erie will be marked again this year.

Weichel was instrumental in having the buoys placed along the line for the first time last year. The object, he said, is to help avoid jurisdictional disputes involving fishermen, boat owners and others with United States or Canadian authorities.

The buoys will be set out by the International Boundary Commission two miles west of Middle Island, and at points two, 15 and 17 miles east of that island, he said.

A Moral To Be Noted

SINCE March 27 the residents of Cleveland have been aware of an impending showdown between their police department and a chronic police offender. A bad actor named Shondor Birns and four of his associates in local gambling rackets were charged with bombing the automobile of another racketeer.

It was evident that if Birns, the city's most notorious hoodlum, could be sent to prison the police department and the city at large could share a conviction that the law was bigger than organized hoodlumism. It has been a matter of deep doubt in Cleveland for some time. An aggressive safety director, Alvin J. Sutton, has been trying to resolve the doubt in favor of the law.

Birns and his pals were found not guilty this week. There immediately was much handshaking between jurors, defendants and defendants' lawyers. Spectators in the courtroom cheered the verdict. The judge, hearing the verdict, was silent and grim. He instructed the prosecutor's office to institute contempt proceedings against Birns for the second time on a charge of tampering with the jury. The deputy inspector of police muttered, "That's it. Go ahead, give them the keys to the city. They've got carte blanche. That's the way 12 good citizens of the community want it."

The moral: Citizens who coddle hoodlums and patronize their rackets shouldn't be upset when their law-enforcement officers begin to wonder what's the use of beating their heads against a stone wall.

Local Responsibility

THE House Banking Committee's approval of a bill extending rent control only if local communities vote for it might be the text of a political discussion that needs more discussing than it has been getting these last few years.

Rent control is a hot potato. That is why there still is a federal rent-control law in existence five years after the end of the war which made rent control necessary. Confronted with it, they would jump at a chance to let local politicians handle the issue—to reverse gressional politicians don't know how to get the recent trend toward big government.

Most congressional politicians were local politicians at one time. They understand the advantages of decentralizing the risk of handling hot potatoes. No one gets burned seriously. The federal government is relieved of its pressure-bloc problem. And more issues are decided at the only level where intelligent decisions are possible—at the level where the people involved know one another.

There is less danger of red tape and top-heavy bureaucracy if local government is made to accept maximum responsibility. Local spending is watched more closely. Local taxpayers are more likely to know what's going on; when they see something they don't like, furthermore, they have a habit of doing something about it. Government is under tighter control.

In a word, the federal government didn't grow strong by biting off more than it could chew. It grew strong because it reflected the strength of thousands of local governing units which were chewing what they had bitten off. And lately, while Washington has been bloat-ing up to gargantuan proportions, its weaknesses, too, have been reflections of weakness in local government. The best brake the country could ask for would be more hot potatoes sent home, where they belong.

Security Day

IT WILL take a few years to get used to the idea that the third Saturday in May is the date to commemorate the job performed by the Armed Services—all of them together. It replaces the traditional Army Day, on April 6; Navy Day, on Oct. 27; Air Force Day, celebrated for the first time on Sept. 17, 1948, and the birthday of the Marine Corps on Nov. 10.

While the occasion is still new it is the logical time to plant the idea that it commemorates a new idea in American thought—that national security depends on the highest possible state of cooperation among all the armed services and among all the people who support the services with taxes and manpower. That would be in the true spirit of military unification.

No one wants to take away from any branch of the Armed Services their precious traditions. But in the spirit of unification, each branch now is expected to subordinate its individual traditions to the development of a new concept of unity. The Armed Services cannot do this alone. They will need civilian help to make armed forces day—Security Day—the occasion it deserves to become in the years ahead.

We wonder how many people already are saving old paper and rubbish to scatter around picnic grounds.

He's Expendable

By PETER EDSON

Truman Aide Prepares His Own Exit

ROY BLOUGH, new third man on President Truman's Council of Economic Advisers, will come to the job with a commitment to quit it if he finds he isn't doing any good.

Blough was formerly head of treasury tax research. He left that at the end of the war and went back to teaching economics at University of Chicago.

Last December Blough made a speech before an American Economics Association meeting in New York. His subject was, "Political and Administrative Requirements for achieving Economic Stability."

Dr. Edwin G. Nourse had just resigned as chairman of the CEA. Blough at that time was not even being considered for membership on the Council. But the speech he made may have had something to do with his selection for the job four months later.

Blough's speech was really an analysis of what makes the work of a presidential economic adviser almost impossible to do. Blough concluded that the Council of Economic Advisers should be absolutely independent of presidential or other political pressure in whatever it recommended. Then came this kicker: "Perhaps we should look on Council members as expendable, each carrying forward the work as far as he individually can, then retiring in favor of others who can carry it farther before they, too, drop by the wayside. I suggest that even the institution of the Council itself is expendable and that sooner or later it will be cut down politically to be replaced by some other organization carrying forward the same functions in somewhat different ways."

WHAT Blough seems to have done in this speech was to prepare the way for his own exit even before he knew he was to enter the Council of Economic Advisers, and to predict its ultimate end.

Stories prevalent in Washington for the past few months—that President Truman was looking for a new chairman to replace Dr. Nourse—were untrue. The President indicated he wanted Leon H. Keyserling for chairman and John D. Clark for vice chairman, right from the start.

Senator Taft's remark that these two, with Blough, "gives the President three left fielders," is a good crack. But it is pertinent to note that the right field hasn't contributed much of anything to winning the ball game either.

The Council, the Joint Congressional Committee on the Economic Report and the whole machinery set up by the so-called "Full" Employment Act of 1946 still have their reputations to make.

Main achievements have probably been educational or inspirational. Many copies of the President's annual economic messages to Congress are probably tossed aside unread, or scanned, filed and forgotten. But some 10,000 copies of every report have been ordered by college economics departments and university business schools. The influence here, and on the real, thinking business leaders has probably been greater than it has on Congress.

The Council's concept of a $300,000,000,000 annual national economy has really taken hold in the business press. Originally, the Council thought and talked only in terms of achieving stability. Now it concentrates on the need for a constantly expanding economy.

THE COUNCIL has taken the lead in promoting extension of social security and enlargement of the housing program. Research for the President's recent small business recommendations to Congress was done largely through CEA.

Where the Council has fallen down primarily is in its failure to develop good working relations, with the Joint Congressional Committee on the Economic Report. This committee labored two years under a Republican chairman, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and produced nothing. It has now labored a year and a third under a Democrat, Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, and produced nothing. There has been no specific economic legislation for which either the Council or the committee can take credit.

The Council admits it has not done a constructive job in the field of general tax reform. Bringing Roy Blough into the Council may correct that, since he is a tax expert.

There is no thought of being able to set up a group of economic advisers so wise that everyone in Congress and out would be willing to follow its recommendations. But the Council so far has not reduced its discussion of political economics to grass roots levels.

One study of the South's economy barely scratched the surface of that big problem. Only now, when unemployment seems to be receding, is the Council moving towards special consideration of New England's problems. The re-emerging problem of migratory farm labor unemployment has not even been touched.

Rights And Social Justice

THERE ARE many factors working against continuation of American liberty for the individual and one of the most dangerous is the antagonism between groups of Americans themselves. We cannot fight effectively against an enemy within or from without if our society is constantly torn with bitter internal strife, one group against another. Under such conditions our economic progress slows down and the moral character of our nation is weakened.

One of the worst blights in America today is the conflict which propagandists have built up between employers and employees. This war of group against group is actively agitated by Communists and other radical elements working for a "new Social Order." But the Socialists and Communists couldn't successfully create enduring strife between these important groups in our American population if both groups had a knowledge of basic sound economics and real social justice.

The true interests of both labor and management are identical. Employees of a business or industry always have a moral right to request an increase in pay when there is increased productivity for which they are directly responsible. Social justice gives them right to request it, though not force it. Under the capitalistic principles of private property and free enterprise no minority group has a right to take by force the wealth of another, or in effect impose taxes upon others.

Wage raise requests are just, therefore, when the employees have themselves helped to boost productivity and, thus, company income. Though social justice may in some instances decree that they be given a share of profits or wealth they didn't help create, they have no moral right to demand that. The Socialist doctrine, on the other hand, does not recognize the principle of private property. It gives everybody the right, by force of law, to participate in the fruits of the production of everybody else. That is the essence of Socialism.

People who invest their savings (capital) in the establishment and operation of a business have the right, under the American system, to keep the profit. The only moral obligation on them is to accord just treatment to the employees and the public. Social justice decrees, further, that they reward the employees properly for increased productivity. But to do or not to do this is a prerogative of human rights. When, or if, an attempt is made to establish this economically and socially sound code by force of law—or by any force—real social justice is thereupon violated.

Therefore, the demand of Socialist or Communist propagandists for a share in the profits of a business solely on the basis of their so-called "Social Justice" or "Economic Democracy," and ignoring the fundamental rights of the business ownership, can never be harmonized with the philosophy of American capitalism or real human justice. These are fundamentals: (1) The enforced sharing of wealth is Socialism regardless of what label it may be given. (2) The voluntary sharing of wealth is an American capitalist (and Christian) ideal which has been liberally exercised. (3) And reward measured upon the base of productivity is economically and morally sound.

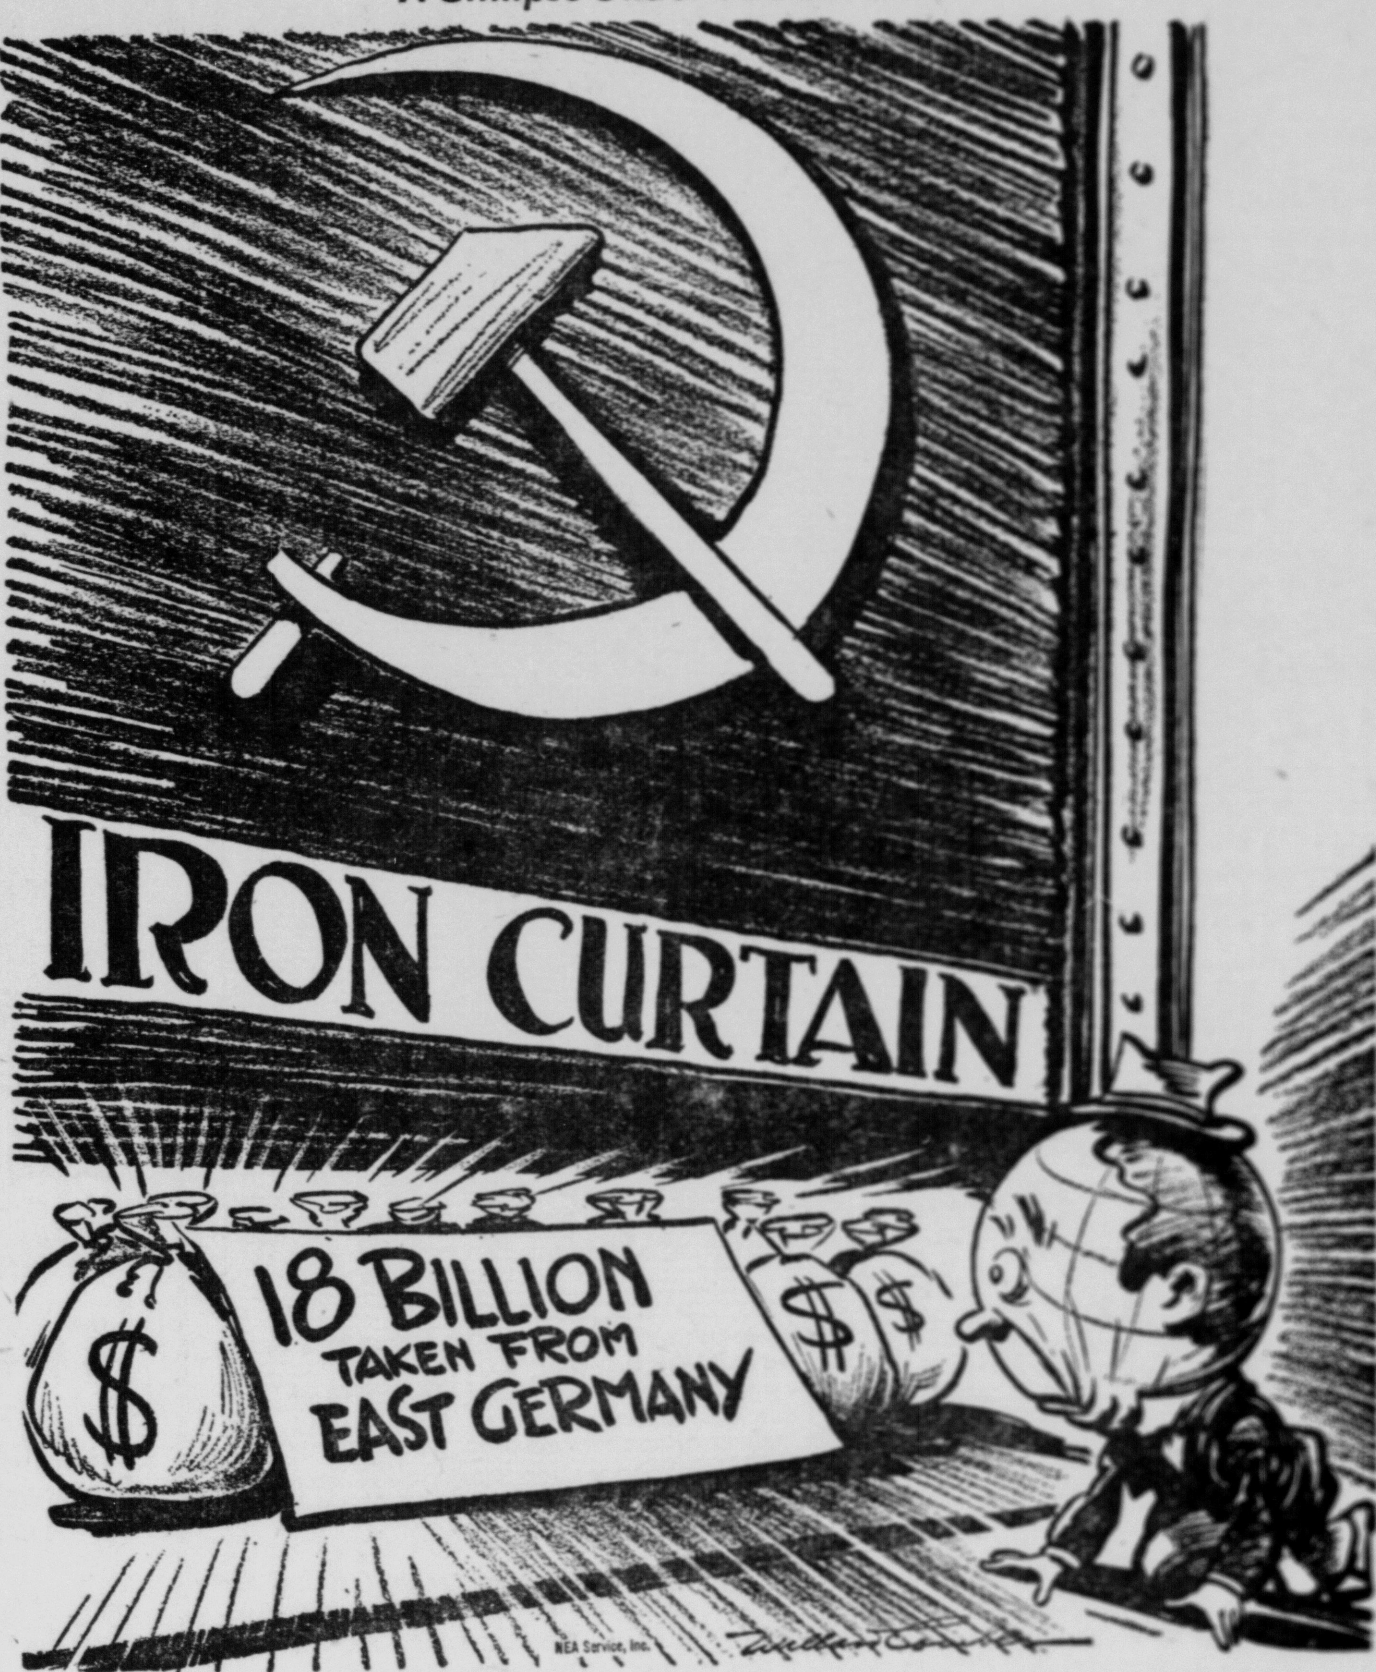

Dave Beck, leader of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America, said in a recent speech: "There is no problem in human relationships so complex or so grievous that it cannot be solved reasonably, if men of character, men with a sincere desire to cooperate in mutual confidence, will sit down together around the conference table, each respecting the rights and dignity of the other, and all inspired by the will to serve the common good."

That's a good statement. It is in contrast to one made a few weeks later by Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the United Automobile Workers, in a speech to Chrysler strikers. He was quoted as saying: "When we grow a little stronger we will demand all that we produce." This goal ignores the "rights and dignity" of the investors who build the plants and finance purchase of the machinery, raw materials and managerial skill to provide the jobs. It is a disruptive statement, not a harmonizing one.

I'll fight like a wild cat until they nail the lid of a pine box down on me.

A Glimpse Under The Curtain

Strictly For The Record

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON
IT'S an ill wind that blows no good, and this happens to be true of the McCarthy fracas in the Senate in one respect that really has nothing to do with the merits of the controversy itself.

For hereafter Senators and Representatives will be guided presumably by a new code of ethics. What ever they say orally will have to be reported exactly and explicitly as they utter every word, and there will be no more editing or revising or correcting of extemporaneous remarks.

For years the stenographers who report committee hearings or debates in Congress have furnished transcripts to members of Congress or to witnesses, and the understanding always has been that corrections and editing changes could be made before printing. In some instances this has amounted to the deletion of paragraphs, and sometimes it has given members a chance to alter the severity of their remarks after sober second thought.

Now all this is to be changed.

The new rule which has, in effect, been advanced by Democratic leaders, requires that there be no changes from oral utterance to written record. It will be interesting to see how closely the self-denying ordinance is followed.

THE NEW approach may be expected as a direct result of the position to which Senator Lucas of Illinois, and Kilgore of West Virginia, Democrats, committed themselves in the Senate debate on May 3, when a general attack was made on Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin, Republican, in connection with a speech he delivered in Wheeling, West Virginia, on February 9 last. This address was broadcast over a Wheeling radio station and allegedly differed on one point from the speech made by the Wisconsin Senator on February 29 in the Senate.

The point at issue related to a list of 205 persons which Senator McCarthy is alleged to have told his West Virginia audience were Communists known to the Secretary of State, whereas on February 20 the Congressional Record quotes him as having said he knew of "57 cases of individuals who would appear to be either card-carrying members or certainly loyal to the Communist party, but who nevertheless are still helping to shape our foreign policy."

SENATOR MCCARTHY said today the radio station was given in advance an uncorrected script but that over the air he referred to the 57 cases. His attention was called to the affidavits of station employees alleging that there was a tape recording of the broadcast. He says if there was a tape recording, it should be produced and that he was confident it would show that he said 57 and not 205.

The real issue, however, isn't whether he did or did not use the figure "205." The implication in the Senate debate is that, even if he had made a slip of the tongue—which he insists he did not—it would not be permissible to revise his remarks for insertion in the Congressional Record.

Hereafter any member who makes a speech outside of Congress presumably cannot revise it for the Congressional Record without being subjected to a charge of untruthfulness. If he makes an error, he probably will have to make a record of his correction as well as the original statement.

The idea of tape recordings is also a good one for Congress. It would simplify matters for everybody if hereafter there were a recording of everything spoken in committees or on the floor of both Houses. Certainly for historical purposes this is the only record worth while and, if the outcome of this small part of the McCarthy controversy in the Senate is to abolish the "editing" or "revising" of committee or debate records, it could prove a salutary development.

Not A Watch!

By HAL BOYLE

Fears Of Retirement Day

NEW YORK

BIG WORRIES rarely make you happy. It's the little day-to-day worries that really make life a pleasure.

And one of the things I fret about most often is what I'll do if my fellow employees give me a gold watch when I retire from work—26 years from now.

This problem usually comes into my mind every morning when the alarm clock goes off. Here is my day-dream:

I have reached the age of 65, and the boys at the office are throwing me a farewell party. Everybody has said a lot of nice things and over the corner one of the younger fellows is remarking, "Look how gray he is—how long do you think he'll last?" And another is saying, "Well, I never thought they'd be able to pry old Boyle off the payroll."

It is time now for the big speech by "The Old Man"—the head of the firm. Actually, he is a brisk young man of 39, as by then teen-agers will be running the world.

RISEING AND looking at a card in his hand to be sure he has my name right, the "Old Man" says:

"Boyle, the place won't be the same without you—but we'll do our best to carry on, and I have a feeling we'll be able to. In token of your 41 years of hard work"—the sound of hollow laughter echoes around the room—"I want to give you this small remembrance from your fellow workers. Goodspeed!"

He then opens a box and hands me—a gold watch.

Now right here is where my worry comes in. What do I do? Do I accept the watch, tears running down my aged cheeks, and murmur brokenly, "Gee boys, it's too much. You shouldn't have done it."

Or do I do what I know I'd secretly like to do—take the watch, hurl it out the window, give a magnificent Bronx cheer, and stalk out?

I certainly hope I'd have the moral courage to do the latter. Perhaps that would start a trend toward giving men at retirement something more useful.

Presenting them with a gold watch is like rearing a brewery horse to green pastures with a quart of oats and a set of new silver-plated horseshoes. They will have time enough on their hands without being further reminded of their age by a ticking watch. You might as well give them a hand-painted perpetual calendar.

THIS WHOLE custom of "Bon Voyage" gifts at 65 needs to be adjusted to the facts of the individual case. If a man doesn't own a watch by then, why give him one at a time when he may not want to fritter away his strength winding it?

Perhaps he'd rather have a bus ticket to Florida. Or a lifetime pass to Yankee Stadium. Or a new hearing aid so he'll be better able to hear his wife's interesting observations on the mistakes he made during his career.

As for myself, all I want is a motor-propelled wheel chair and a subscription to The Police Gazette. A friend of mine downtown has an even more interesting wish.

"If they'll just give me a racehorse when I retire, I'll be satisfied," he said. "That'll give me a chance to win enough to come back and buy out the firm—and run it the way I'd like to."

But—please omit the gold watch. Or, better still, give it to me now.

MISS HELEN VARGO, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vargo, 323 Court st. Elizabeth, N. J., became the bride of Joseph F. Steffel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Steffel of E. Third st., Salem, at 4:30 p. m. Saturday, May 13, in St. Patrick's Church, Elizabeth.

The church was decorated with bouquets of white gladioli, snapdragons and red roses. The bride, attired in a beautiful gown of white satin, was given in marriage by her father in the ceremony performed by Rev. John M. Nuberg.

The gown, made with a beaded motif and sweetheart neckline, had a bouffant skirt with a chapel train. A full-length illusion veil edged with imported French lace was attached to a beaded tiara. White iris and stock made up the bride's cascade bouquet.

Peter Angelo, organist, and Daniel O'Sullivan, soloist, presented the nuptial music which included "Ave Maria."

The maid of honor, Miss Eleanor Claue of Elizabeth, wore a yellow brocade gown with marquisette overskirt and matching picture hat. The bridesmaids, Miss Emily Cianfrocca of Elizabeth and Dolores Steffel of Salem, were attired in lime green dresses styled identically to the maid of honor's. Miss Steffel is a sister of the groom.

Arnold Kurinzi of Elizabeth, uncle of the bride, was best man. The ushers were John Kurinzi of Elizabeth and Frank Vargo of Phillipsburg, N. J. A cousin of the bride, Joseph Kurinzi, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Vargo's frock was of navy blue crepe and Mrs. Steffel wore a British tan outfit. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

A reception following the wedding was held at Falcon's Club-house.

When the newlyweds departed for their wedding trip to New York City, Mrs. Steffel wore a white orchid on her navy blue suit with red accessories.

The bridegroom attended Salem High school and has been in the Army since 1948. He is stationed in Albuquerque, N. M., where the couple will reside.

The bride graduated from Battin High School and has been employed by Georgia Kaolin, Inc.

In fashionable focus for the sweet girl graduate are white dresses which will lead a party life this summer. Embroidered organdy flounces form the tiered skirt and ruffle the off-shoulder neckline of the two-piece dress (left) designed by Celia Phillips. Another two-piece costume (right) by the same designer poses a sheer organdy dress banded in pique over a sun-back pique sheath. Uncover during the last half hour to brown the beans, if desired. Or cook the mixture slowly for about one hour in a covered kettle on top of the stove. Stir occasionally.

Zoldak Wins In Sharp Relief Performance

Twirler Makes Big Comeback

Indians Take 4-1 Win Over Boston Red Sox

CLEVELAND, May 20—(AP)—Sam Zoldak was a solid member of the Cleveland Indians squad today, thanks to Mrs. Johnny Berardino, Bobby Doerr and his own bang up pitching.

Zoldak found himself last night for the first time this season and hurled the Indians to a 4-1 win over the Boston Red Sox.

Just Wednesday he had been told he was optioned to San Diego in the Pacific Coast League. He shipped his baggage.

But then Mrs. Berardino thought it would be nice for her husband to play close to their Los Angeles home. Johnny agreed and the Tribe management made a last minute switch.

Zoldak stayed and the infielder went as the Indians got their squad within American League limits.

Last night Sad Sam was in the bullpen while Mike Garcia pitched. Boston's Doerr laced a line drive which smacked Garcia's right wrist, causing a severe bruise.

That put Zoldak in the game. In the top of the third the Sox tagged him for three singles and one run which tied the score at 1-1.

AFTER THAT they didn't get another run. Inning after inning Zoldak mowed them down, giving up just three more hits in the next six innings.

Ray Boone singled home Larry Doby and Joe Gordon in the fourth and that was enough to win. But in the seventh Zoldak singled, scoring Boone.

Bob Kennedy's homer in the first inning had given the Indians their early lead.

Now Zoldak needs a way to get his baggage back quickly.

Bob Lemon, who has won three and lost two, goes to the mound today as the Indians and Sox resume their series. Boston will send Chuck Stobbs against him. Stobbs has won two and lost none.

Last time Lemon faced Boston the Indians won, 5-4, as Lemon gave up 11 hits in nine innings.

Bob Feller and Steve Gromek will do the chucking for the Indians tomorrow when the New York Yankees invade for a double header.

The Yankees maintained their one game lead over the Detroit Tigers in the American League pennant chase.

Tommy Byrne pitched the Yanks to a 2-0 victory over Bobby Cain and the White Sox in a night game at Chicago while the Tigers trounced the Philadelphia Athletics, 14-8, in the only day game in the majors.

Both Byrne and Cain surrendered only three hits. The Yanks, however, bunched two of their blows along with a walk to score both their runs in the third inning. Both runs scored on Joe DiMaggio's single.

The Tigers spotted the A's a 5-2 lead and then pounded Hank Wyse, Carl Scheib and Harry Byrd for 10 runs in the fifth inning to win going away. All other games were rained out.

World Record Relay Run In California

LOS ANGELES, May 20—(AP)—One world record surpasser, one near miss, one top-flight all-around performance and one disappointment.

That sums up the annual Los Angeles Coliseum Relays, run off last night before 40,139 howling fans.

The world two-mile relay mark was bettered by a flying quartet from Michigan State, Dave Peppard, Warren Druetzler, Don Makieliski and Bill Mack, who ran the distance in 7 minutes 31.8 seconds.

They were pushed to the time by help from a University of Southern team which was twentieth of a second back, also beating the old mark of 1:34.5 set by a University of California four in 1941.

Equally spine-tingling was the mile relay, in which an unheralded equid from Occidental College (Eagle Rock, Calif.) outsped favored Morgan State of Baltimore. The Negroes made a great race of it, but could do no more than push Oxy to a time of 3:10.1, not far back of the world standard of 3:09.4 set by another 1941 California squad.

The night's best all around job was turned in by Andy Stanfield of Seton Hall. Stanfield won three events, the first time anyone has turned that trick in the Relays' 10-year history. He took the broad jump at 24 feet 3 inches, and outsped the field in a 9.5 100-yard dash. Then he surprised with a 23.1 low hurdles win.

NO ONE was seriously injured in this four-car midget auto crash in Cedar Rapids, Ia., despite all the action. Driver Steve Orme of Springfield, Ill., (center) is thrown from his car, while a car driven by Don Branson of Champaign, Ill., flies up into the air. Gene Wyant (right) of Champaign, piles into the scramble. Car at left was driven by Mike O'Halloran of Chicago.

Rollie Hemsley As Manager On Way Back To Big Leagues

COLUMBUS, May 12—(INS)—A young oldster name of Ralston Burdett Hemsley is on his way back to baseball's major leagues—and he may get there sooner than many people expect.

However, the 42-year-old Hemsley will be returning as a mature, confident manager this time, not as the laughing, carefree playboy-catcher of a decade ago.

Rollie is in his 26th year in baseball this season as manager of the American Association Columbus Red Birds. Man and boy he played on seven different major league clubs, made five American League all-star teams and played in three World Series.

Right now, the Burley Welshman is in his second season as a manager, but already he has staked out a claim as one of the best.

He broke in at the helm of the Nashville Vols of the Southern Association and performed something akin to a miracle. The Vols generally were regarded as cellar-bait and even were picked by the league's sportswriters to finish seventh.

UNDER ROLLIE'S guidance, however, the Vols waited off with the loop regular season crown by four and a half games, disposed of New Orleans and Mobile in the Southern Association playoffs and proceeded to polish off Tulsa of the Texas League in the Dixie series.

The Red Bird club Hemsley now has also was considered basement material in pre-season prognostications. So far though, Rollie has kept the team at or near the .500 mark throughout.

The Birds currently rate fourth, only 5½ games off Indianapolis' front-running pace. Needless to say, Columbus fans are hopeful Hemsley can upset the dope sheet once more.

Rollie broke into professional ball at the age of 17 in 1925. Three years later he made the grade with the Pittsburgh Pirates. He performed adequately, if not sensationally, in the National League for the Pirates, the Chicago Cubs and the Cincinnati Reds before finally getting swapped to the St. Louis Browns.

IN 1943 with the Browns he belted the ball at a .309 clip, knocked in 52 runs and appeared in 123 ball games. In 1935, he caught 144 games, batted .290 and gained a spot on the league All-Star team the first time.

He repeated on the honor squad in 1936 and put in one more year with the Browns before he finally was traded to the Cleveland Indians. There he played a major part in the development of Bob Feller, one of baseball's modern greats. He made the league All-Star team in 1939 and set an all-time Cleveland record of .994 for catchers in 1940.

After that, Rollie put in just one more full-time season with the Indians and then performed once again for the Cincinnati Reds and later for two of the New York Yankees' pennant-winning outfits.

Yesterday's Stars Pitching—Tommy Byrne, Yanks—Pitched New York to a 2-0, three-hit shut-out over Chicago, striking out six and walking four.

Batting—Ray Boone, Indians—Singled home two runs and scored a third in Cleveland's 4-1 triumph over Boston.

Fights Last Night New York—Tiberio Mitri, 161, Trieste, Italy, outpointed Dick Wagner, 170, Toppensish, Wash. 10.

San Antonio, Tex.—Rudy Cruz, 132, Los Angeles, outpointed Eddie Bertolino, 130, Galveston. 10.

Hollywood, Calif.—Art Soto, 151½, Oakland, Calif., outpointed Bruce Richardson, 155½, Canada. 10.

The night's best all around job was turned in by Andy Stanfield of Seton Hall. Stanfield won three events, the first time anyone has turned that trick in the Relays' 10-year history. He took the broad jump at 24 feet 3 inches, and outsped the field in a 9.5 100-yard dash. Then he surprised with a 23.1 low hurdles win.

Mullins Wins AA League Tilt

Peoples Lumber Takes MAT; Games Called

Cold weather, the new Ohio version of summer, forced the postponement to two softball games at West End park Friday night, but Umpire Jim Jackson was able to run off two tilts before things shut down.

The shivering arbiter called a halt to proceedings when players showed up clad in topcoats and wearing gloves on both hands.

In the only AA game of the night, Mullins scored their second victory of the campaign, edging the Electric Furnace 6-5 in an eight inning fray. Paul Wukotich singled to left to bring home Long with the winning run.

Wright and Oesch twirled for the winners, allowing eight hits. Sutherland of the Furnace gave up 11 bingles. Wukotich, Hart and Hrvatin each got two hits for Mullins, while Ware, Landwert and Brown each had a pair for the losers.

PEOPLES LUMBER evened their season record at 1-1 in the Class A loop, on a neat four hit pitching performance by Eddie Miller. The veteran hurler held the MAT in check for an easy 9-3 win.

A five run rally by the Lumbermen in the third frame put the game on ice—and we do mean ice.

Wade McGhee of Peoples Lumber led both teams with two base hits.

Play will be resumed Monday night at West End. Ear muffs will be classed as optional equipment and plans to install heaters in the dugouts are being considered.

THE DIFFERENCE—If Walter Dropo keeps hitting, the gigantic first baseman easily could be the difference between the Red Sox and the Yankees and Tigers in the American League race. The all-around athlete from Connecticut was recalled from Louisville when Billy Goodman chipped a bone in his ankle.

Wrestlers Make Hit In Mat Card Friday

Two energetic girl wrestlers stole the show from their larger male colleagues in Frank Julian's card at the Memorial building Friday night.

Mae Young of Tulsa, Oklahoma won a two of three fall decision over Eve Lee of Houston, Texas, when the latter refused to go to her corner while Miss Young was out of the ring. The pair had split the first two falls in a fast, exciting match.

Julian had his hands full with Jack Vansky of Kearney, N. J., but finally pinned him in 28 minutes. Their match had the large crowd in an uproar throughout, railing at Vansky's ungentlemanly tactics.

In the final, Ruby Wright of California defeated Jim Bozic of Cleveland. Wright was given the decision during the third fall when Bozic was disqualified for unfair tactics. The windup was the least exciting of the three matches.

Bill Holland, Auto Racer, Goes After $, Not Thrills

By CHET HAGAN
NEW YORK—(NEA)—Handsome, graying and conservatively-dressed Bill Holland belies his danger-packed profession.

Looking at him it's hard to imagine him climbing into one of Lou Moore's powerful cars.

May 30, to defend his championship in the Kentucky Derby of auto racing—the classic 300-mile on the Indianapolis speedway bricks.

Holland looks more like an across-the-counter business man than the popular conception of a race car driver.

Auto racing to Holland is simply a means of making a handsome living. He's not a captive of the sport; chained to it because of the thrills and the glory of writing his name on the pages of sports history.

When auto racing stops paying off, Holland will desert it.

Even now, while he's on the top of the heap, Holland laughingly admits: "There must be an easier way of making a living."

LIKE MOST of his colleagues, Holland is no a half-crazed daredevil.

He's a finely-trained chip who knows the limits of his machine and, better still, knows his limits.

Holland trains for the auto racing season like any other athlete. He works out in a gymnasium, cutting down his weight, toning his muscles and gaining strength for the hard job ahead.

He tries to reach the peak of his endurance and muscular sharpness by the time Memorial Day and the Indianapolis show roll around.

Holland's Indianapolis record is a rather amazing one. Although he's been racing for 15 years, he did not take a crack at the 500-mile test until 1947. Then he was sure he was ready, certain he had a good car, one of the status of powerhouses owned by Lou Moore.

A misunderstanding signal from his pit crew cost Holland victory his first time out in Indianapolis.

THE CONTROVERSY of why he was the runner-up wrote headlines for several weeks. In 1948, a faulty gear-shift mechanism hurt his chances as he once again finished second to Teammate Mauri Rose.

There was no denying Holland last year. He set a new track record as he won handily. It was a good, clean-cut victory, one that had been carefully cultivated and carefully driven. It was business-like.

Between his racing duties this year, the 500-mile titleholder is focusing for an auto theft show. Bill Holland's Hot Drivers. It's not because he needs thrills for breakfast, dinner and supper, but simply because the Hot Drivers' show pays off.

THE PAY-OFF is the important thing to Businessman Holland.

He returned to his Reading, Pa., home for a star's welcome after the 1949 Indianapolis victory. One of the first to greet him was a long-time friend, a friend who had bet Holland $5 that he wouldn't finish.

In honest joy for Holland's good fortune, the friend pumped Bill's hand and said: "Congratulations, Bill."

Holland, who had just pocketed $50,000 in prize money and testimonial fees, shot back: "Congratulations, mate. Give me the five you owe me."

Sunday evening. Local young people who are students at Cleveland Bible College were special speakers.

Mrs. Bertha Cover used an attractive arrangement of white and pink spring blossoms as a centerpiece for her dining table when the Ladies Afternoon Bridge Club enjoyed a baked ham dinner at her home. Visiting and watching television filled the social hours.

Mrs. Erma Jackson will receive the club at her home Thursday afternoon.

Mothers and daughters were honored when the Women's Society for World Service of Mount Carmel Evangelical Church met recently in the church auditorium. Mrs. Arlie Toole, president, opened the business session.

Members decided that the comforter made at the last meeting be sent to the E. U. B. representative in Japan to be given to orphan children.

ELECTRO TREAT

PROCESS
Used In Quality
Dry Cleaning

The Electro-Treat process means tomorrow's dry cleaning methods today. It ends graying-whites stay white and pastel shades sparkle in their true colors.
Electro-Treat eliminates the cause of graying - it drains away the electro-static field generated by the washer action and, there being no magnetic attraction soil remains in suspension in the solvent and is carried away. We do not say that gray materials can be made white.
They cannot be-but white can be kept white-and colors can be returned with new-like freshness.

Boys in Blue rallied again to the colors and Sept. 12, 1901, the present camp was chartered under the same name.

ONE OF the strongest camps in the state, the organization never missed holding a weekly session for 40 years. Secretary H. D. Huttenhower reports that the camp has held 2,311 regular meetings.

There are five charter members in the second organization—Mr. Triem, George E. Votaw, Joseph E. Bentley, W. E. Mounts and B. H. Calkins. All of them are past commanders, with the exception of Mr. Calkins. Mr. Votaw, present commander, has served in this capacity three different times. For many years Mr. Bentley was secretary.

Charles R. Votaw, another past commander, has a long time membership record which includes both the Lisbon and Salem camps. He also has an unusual attendance record in the local camp. Mr. Huttenhower, secretary for the past eight years, has been active in patriotic work for years, although he has only lived in Salem since June, 1936.

The camp has been given state and national recognition through one of its charter members, Park F. Yengling, in that he held the offices of department and national commanders. Mr. Yengling, native of Salem, who spent the latter part of his life in Rocky River, died this spring.

For many years the Sons maintained a Reserve Military Company, which won state honors for the camp.

Following the same goals as their fathers, the objective of the Sons is to give unselfish patriotic service to the community. They have furnished flags and pictures of Washington and Lincoln for the public schools of the city and flags for Salem City Hospital.

A firing squad, military escort and pall bearers have been provided for 150 funerals, records show.

SUCCESSOR of Prescott post, G.A.R., made up of Civil War veterans, the camp was willed all of the post's property on its 25th anniversary. Since that time the members have taken a lead part in sponsoring the city's Memorial Day observance, in cooperation with all the other patriotic units.

The camp assumes the responsibility for the decoration of approximately 721 graves in cemeteries in this vicinity. A few of them are the graves of veterans in the Revolutionary, 1812 and the Spanish American Wars.

Financially, the camp has never solicited any funds, although it does receive some help from merchants and manufacturers toward the Memorial Day expenses and a small amount from the township trustees.

Membership in the camp is made up of sons, grandsons, and great grandsons of Civil War veterans in the Union Army. Eligibles must be 16 years old.

Trescott post, organized here May 11, 1868, had 13 charter members. Charles Bonsall, 97, who died Feb. 25, 1937, was its last member.
